

RED PETAL PRESS ACHIEVES HALF-WAY MARK ON ACTION
SERIES THE MACMASTER CHRONICLES.

(April 18, 2011, Rochester) -- Jason Lord Case, action/adventure fiction novelist, is making good on his contract with Red Petal Press to produce Case's action book series THE MACMASTER CHRONICLES. Red Petal Press is pleased with the progress, and with the excellent quality of the storytelling, garnering good reviews from readers. Jason Case is no stranger to writing riveting fiction, as he is son to David F. Case, known for his gothic horror novels and westerns.

Six novels in total will be produced for the series. The three novels in the first half of the series are HONORABLE ASSASSIN, KILLER TO DIE FOR, and FALLEN STAR, and all have been published by Red Petal Press and are commercially available.

The series is being produced in two platforms – trade paperback and digital e-book. The digital editions are available in multiple formats for the most popular digital book reader and smart phone hardware, and are for sale at all of the major e-tail book sites, a couple of examples being Amazon.com and BarnesAndNoble.com. Print editions are also commercially available and print editions signed by the author are available at RedPetalPress.com.

"The quality of the material Jason Case is providing Red Petal Press for THE MACMASTER CHRONICLES is very good, and we are very pleased with the progress of the series and also with the conversion of his work into the digital formats," said Art Whitfield, sales consultant for Red Petal Press.

About Red Petal Press:

Red Petal Press is a Rochester, NY-based independent book publisher currently specializing in fiction novels for both digital and paperback platforms. Cover design, editing, and book interior formatting for both traditional printing and conversion to e-book formats are services performed by <http://redpetalpress.com>.

Contact:

Mardou Case, Owner
Info@redpetalpress.com
Rochester, NY
585-225-2023

###